Application for Senior Data Scientist

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am interested in the Senior Data Scientist position currently available at Beckman Coulter. This position is a perfect match to my skill set and interests. I have a PhD in Engineering that focused on multivariate statistical modeling. Through professional experience and continuous learning I furthered my skills to become a well rounded Data Scientist. I can analyze, develop and adapt complex statistical models and machine learning algorithms to the specific needs of your organization. I can also design experiments to tests hypothesis and answer questions of value to Beckman Coulter. Furthermore, I can handle, clean, analyze and visualize large data sets, and generate automated reports with the results. My work tools are either R, Python or SQL depending on the specific project goals.

The available Senior Data Scientist position seems like a fun and exciting challenge, and I hope you and I have the opportunity to talk about it.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Carlos Felipe Alcala Perez
